This presentation is a technical update on mixed farming sponsored by Temora Ag Bureau and Lachlan and Murrumbidgee CMA. The focus is to provide mixed farmers with the latest research findings and production techniques specifically targeting mixed farms. An excellent array of researchers and industry leaders has been assembled for the forum. Key note speaker Roger Fletcher, owner of Fletcher International, will give an outline of his business structure and where he sees the future heading. Researchers from CSIRO, NSW DPI, CSU and a panel of regional growers will present on the impacts of livestock on soils and water, Carbon facts and fiction, resilience and risk of various enterprise mixes, genetic influence on production and the use of innovative management practices. Static displays and information packages from CSIRO, NSW DPI, AWI, MLA, CMA's, FarmLink Research and others.
